

Donors and giving increase in all 4 sides of campaign

More than 3,400 donors contributed $184,505 to Gallaudet during the first year of the "Cornerstones Campaign."

The campaign, initiated by the Office of Development, is designed to ensure that the College maintains a sound financial base. The campaign generated increased annual giving from each of the four cornerstone groups: alumni, parents, faculty/staff and friends.

According to the Office of Development data through June 30, alumni giving led all groups with an increase of 239 percent over 1984-85 levels.

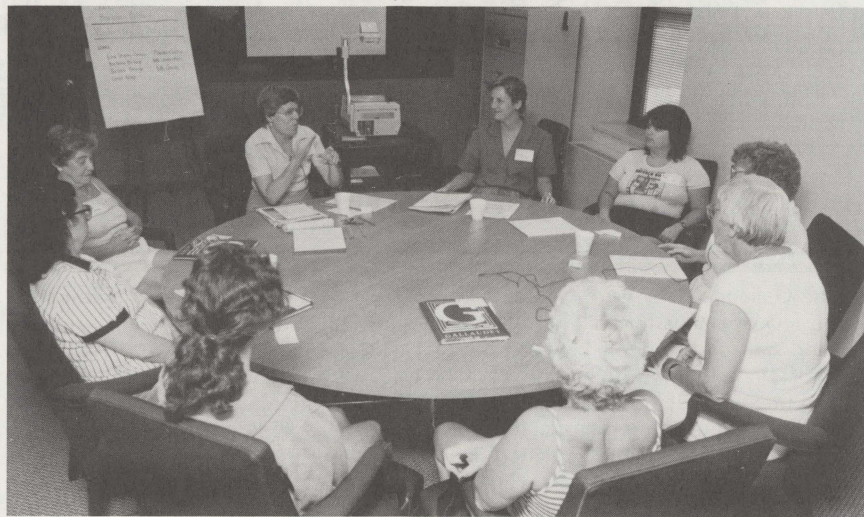

"With these levels of support from persons who best know the value of a Gallaudet education, the College can reach out with confidence to other private sources of support," said Jane Kolson, director of development.

Total gifts to the College during 1985-86 from all sources, including individuals, foundations and corporations, exceeded $1.8 million, an increase of 53 percent over the previous year.

Two major gifts recently received by the College will enhance educational opportunities for deaf people, according to Kolson.

The Gallaudet Memorial and Honor Fund has been established with an initial donation of $10,700 from

6 Gallaudet dancers host workshops, perform at OAS festival in St. Lucia

The Gallaudet Dance Company recently traveled to Castries, St. Lucia, near Trinidad, to participate in the VII Inter-American Very Special Symposium and Festival, sponsored by the Organization of American States (OAS).

The four-day symposium and festival joined representatives of the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States (OECS) in lectures, workshops, receptions, demonstrations and luncheons.

Six members of the Gallaudet Dance Company performed at a reception hosted by St. Lucia's Prime Minister and Mrs. John G. M. Compton. The company also presented day-long dance workshops for deaf children and educators. More than 5,000 children attended one workshop.

The dance company has participated in the OAS-sponsored symposia and festivals since its inception in 1981, traveling to such places as Peru, Barbados, Guatemala and the Bahamas.

Members of the company who went to St. Lucia this year are: Monica Valgemae, Valentino Vasquez, Lily Chin, Phyllis Peaton, Chris Smith, Sue Gill (assistant director) and Diane Hotendorf (director).

Members of the company will attend the event again in Rio de Janeiro next March.

'Ole Jim' workers keep extra busy as customers seek to beat the heat

"Ole Jim" is having its busiest summer since opening in 1982, according to Mike Kaika, coordinator of Alumni Programs.

Bartenders Mike Atchinson and Patti Levine are on their toes helping Happy Hour customers beat the heat each Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 4:30 p.m. until "last call," usually about 8:30 p.m., said Kaika.

"As many as 50 patrons, mostly participants in the College's summer programs, show up regularly to enjoy dancing to new disco tapes in air conditioned comfort," he said.

This summer, "Ole Jim" has been the scene of wedding receptions, luncheons, dinners, receptions and one silver anniversary celebration. The conference room was used daily during June; now it's a classroom for the New Faculty Orientation Sign Language Program.

"Summer used to be my time for catching up on work that piled up during the academic year," said Kaika. "But I guess those are now 'by-gone' days!"

Beginning Aug. 11, Happy Hour will only be held Thursdays and Fridays from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Ed Glenn receives security-related certification

Ed Glenn, manager of telecommunications services for Business Services, recently passed the Certified Protection Professional (CPP) exam given by the American Society for Industrial Security.

Glenn is the first College community member to take and to pass the exam.

The comprehensive exam included mandatory tests on emergency plan-

Gallaudet people play major roles at NAD meeting

Gallaudet-related people played major roles at the recent 38th biannual convention of the National Association of the Deaf (NAD) in Salt Lake City.

Robert and Mary Sanderson co-chaired the convention, assisted by a staff that included many Gallaudet alumni/ae. Robert Sanderson is a member of the College Board of Trustees. Other board members in attendance were Frank Sullivan, Harvey Corson, and Phil Bravin.

Corson was re-elected NAD vice president for the next two years, and Bravin was named secretary-treasurer by acclamation.

President Jerry C. Lee and Joan Lee hosted a special Gallaudet Breakfast. College Vice Presidents Robert Davila and Lou Markwith joined Central Administration members Jack Gannon and Mervin Garretson in greeting participants.

Community members who chaired NAD committees included Roz Rosen, Law Committee; John Kubis, Resolutions Committee; and Barbara Kanapell, Education Section.

Gallaudet personnel presenting workshops included Yerker Andersson. Nancy Bloch, Howard Busby, Steven Chough, Susan Newburger, Sue Pressman, Alfred Sonnenstrahl and Frank Turk, who also edited the daily information bulletin. Mal Grossinger supervised the Gallaudet exhibit, and Mary Lou Novitsky headed the Gallaudet TV crew that videotaped the entire convention.

Garretson chaired the Advocacy Committee and was speaker and chair at the breakfast meeting of the Order of Georges and Georgettes. The group selected Gannon as its delegate to the Council of Representatives, with Leon Auerbach as alternate delegate.

At an awards luncheon, Malcolm Norwood and Harlan Lane received NAD Distinguished Service Awards, the association's highest honor.

Patricia Brennan, a 1985 Gallaudet graduate, was crowned Miss Deaf America.

ning, legal aspects, personnel security, physical security, protection of sensitive information, security management and substance abuse. Four optional areas chosen by Glenn included tests on security in banking and financial institutions, educational institutions, manufacturing plants, and restaurant and lodging facilities.

Kathleen West Straight and William D. Straight. The gift was made in memory of Alma and Edward West, Mrs. Straight's parents. The funds will be used to support a new scholarship.

Kolson said that the Office of Development would be pleased to work with donors wanting to honor or remember a loved one or family member in a similar manner through a gift to the new fund.

The College's Hearing-Vision Impaired Program (HVIP) will continue to offer its services this coming year through a $45,299 gift from the Morris and Gwendolyn Cafritz Foundation of Washington, D.C.

"Through the generous support of these donors and the efforts of many others, Gallaudet College is preparing to meet the challenges of the future," said Kolson.

Geoffrey Mathay, placement counselor in the Career Center, co-authored an article in the July issue of the Journal of Rehabilitation of the Deaf. "A Study of Closed Cases: Implications for the Administration of Deafness Rehabilitation Services" identifies client and counselor characteristics that may contribute to unsuccessful case closures involving deaf VR clients.

Tim Frelich of the MSSD Residence Program will serve as youth programs coordinator for the National Association of the Deaf (NAD) during the 1986-87 academic year. Gallaudet's "loan" of Frelich to the NAD is made possible by a Presidential Award. Frelich will work to develop and strengthen Junior NAD programs across the country.

Gallaudet received two awards from the Recognition Program of the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) this year. The monthly television news magazine program "Deaf Mosaic" received a gold medal, and a silver medal was awarded for College publications printed on campus.

The new American Deaf Volleyball Association, headed by Farleigh Warsaw of the National Technical Institute for the Deaf, held its first developmental camp at Gallaudet in July. Charles Marsh of the Kansas School for the Deaf, who served as assistant coach for women's volleyball at the World Games for the Deaf, was camp director. Peg Worthington of the MSSD Physical Education Department participated in the training. Those attending the camp included nine students from the Texas School for the Deaf.
